

Call for Papers

Authors are invited to make a submission to this journal. All submissions will be assessed by an editor to determine whether they meet the aims and scope of this journal. Those considered to be a good fit will be sent for peer review before determining whether they will be accepted or rejected.

Information Generation and Management (IG&M) is published by the Association of Special Libraries of the Philippines (ASLP). The journal publishes theoretical, empirical, or professional practices to share and exchange experiences. The journal seeks articles and case studies that inspire conversations from diverse readers and open opportunities for unheard voices in the information industry and profession. We invite all researchers, scholars, students, and practitioners to submit their papers for publication. We accept papers on a rolling basis.

Manuscripts of interest may come from the following topics:

Librarianship in Asia and the Pacific

Knowledge Management in Developing Nations

Information Professionals in Developing Nations

Competencies of Librarians and Information Professionals

Development of Information and Knowledge

Library Education and Pedagogy

Contemporary Issues in LIS

Special Features

Student Insights: IGM encourages students of LIS to submit their work for peer review. Students and recent graduates can leverage their academic work by transforming their research into publishable articles.

All submissions must meet the following requirements.

- This submission meets the requirements outlined in the Submission Guidelines.
- This submission has not been previously published, nor is it before another journal for consideration.
- All references have been checked for accuracy and completeness.
- All tables and figures have been numbered and labeled.
- Permission has been obtained to publish all photos, datasets and other material provided with this submission.

- Two versions of your manuscript (with author details and an anonymized version in Word format).
